Dear Jalaj,

Wrt the 2nd point, (additional categories for timesheet), we also use a project called Misc Activities with a long time-span and all these activities. We log efforts against that project for the specific task. If there are specific resources/employees for a particular activity, you can assign before hand and then the timesheets can be filled. This also enables all kinds of reporting that is built into the system, in addition to emails, alerts, resource loading etc to work as it is. Action items can only be assigned to one person at a time. So, if there is a specific "single person" task, you can use action items. For example, Tarun ji can use the same for regular management meetings etc.

Wrt document uploading, I was asked not to allow uploading documents to a cloud service. You may further check.

You can discuss with me on this if needed.

Yours Sincerely

Subject: EinFrame Feature Requests

Hi Jalaj,

Thanks for sharing the improvements and new feature requests for EinFrame.
I have discussed all your inputs with both Dr. Ripi and Vaibhav.

Here are the final thoughts. Feel free to further add/update.

Assigned tasks in Project/ Project plan view:

You can use the Action Item page (landing page after login) for this purpose.

This page lists all action items (each task of a published project is also an action item).

Time Sheet Capture – Additional Activity types:

As per the current practice in GIPL, you can create action items for all the custom categories with extended start/end dates like April 1st to March 31st.

Thereafter, you can capture timesheet against these action items (by selection Action Items in the first dropdown).

Machine Tools loading on project tasks, similar to person loading:

You can define machines/tools as employees with a specific naming convention like 'Assets' in First Name and machine name in last name.

Same as employees, you can select these machines as project team members and allocate tasks, loading onto them.

This will automatically facilitate all types of resource loading reports and no additional reports will be required.

Document Upload with Timesheet Entry:

Can you please double-check with your legal team regarding uploading documents to a 3rd party cloud.

If there is no objection from your side, we can facilitate this feature.

Best Regards,

Hello Prashant ji,

Thanks for your continuous support regarding Einframe implementation. As we did Project page related and time sheet fill training yesterday, we have some points, which you noted down at your end for incorporation in this instance. The points are as follows :

1. Time sheet capture : Activity type, there are only four headers in which we can fill time sheet, but as discussed we have many other activities (other than project) which we want to make as header, so that in report easy segregation can occur, these additional required headers are as below :

Service Support

Sales Support

Production Support

Quality Support

Purchase Support

Branding Support

Components Validation

BOM Costing

SAP Support

CRM Support

Store Management

Trainings

Future Projects Related

Others

2. Just like Man power assigning in each tasks, we require Machines / tools assigning in tasks.

3. Document upload during task activities and show at report page.

Hope we'll hear from you soon.

Thanks & Regards,
